With our proven track record of delivering world-class products to demanding customers, Loopia Group is fully committed to the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact and believe in our company's ability to make a difference.

Human Rights

Loopia Group supports and respects the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights. The main areas where we see that we can influence our impact on human rights are within equality and labor rights.

Our code of conduct and whistleblower policy are our main vehicles for showing support of, and ensuring compliance to, human rights principles.

Loopia Group has made several acquisitions in the last couple of years through which its operations has come to span over a multitude of countries and include several legal entities. Based on our commitment to support and respect human rights, we have implemented one code of conduct for the whole company so that it makes our position clear for all our employees, business partners and other stakeholders.

Furthermore, we have strengthened our whistleblower policy by implementing an externally hosted whistleblower protection scheme, making it easier for our employees and external stakeholders to report any concerns or incidents. During the last year we have also strengthened our internal processes to ensure all new employees receive information and get educated in our above-mentioned policies.

In 2021 and 2022, Loopia Group has had zero incidents reported in the whistleblower system.

Labor

Loopia Group considers our staff to be our most important resource, and one of our key strategic priorities is to build one strong team. We seek to offer attractive working conditions that can help us attract and retain talent. As we grow and operate across several countries, we believe that we will be able to offer even more intriguing career and learning opportunities.

Loopia Group supports fundamental labor principles and rights at work:

- a) We support and accept employees' freedom of association
- b) We will not use, encourage or benefit from any form of forced or compulsory labor
- c) We respect and adhere to minimum age provisions in national laws and regulations in the countries where the group operates

- d) We do not tolerate any form of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation

We are committed to fairness and non-discrimination across all grounds of discrimination, including gender, age, disability, ethnicity etc. This includes a commitment to equal pay for work of equal value considering local market conditions, complying with minimum wage standards, and ensure that employment-related decisions are based on relevant objective criteria, e.g., qualifications, skills and experience.

We believe that diversity contributes positively to the work environment and strengthens the group's performance and competitiveness.

Labor

We are committed to take good care of our people and to reach high levels of employee satisfaction.

Our efforts within these areas are appreciated from our employees and overall employee satisfaction has increased 9% from Apr 2021 to Oct 2022.

Our position with regards to labor principles is reflected in our code of conduct and other relevant policies and manuals. Loopia Group strives to have up-to-date employee manuals for each location where we operate with clearly stated employee rights and responsibilities and their compensation and benefits.

We track several labor-related KPIs,

*All people that meet both of the following criteria:

1. Reports to CEO or to any of the CEO's direct reports
2. Has direct reports including gender diversity, sickness absence and work-related injuries.

As per end of 2022, 26% of our total workforce, and 38% of people in leadership positions*, were women.

In 2022, we had 6.7 sickness absence days per FTE on average, and 0 work-related injuries.

Environment

Sustainability is one of Loopia Group's core values. Loopia Group strives to be sustainable in everything it does – from decisions on what data centers to partner with to daily decisions on resource use and how employees treat each other.

In Q1 2023 we conducted a CO2e baseline project for 2022 covering scope 1, 2 and 3. The project concluded that Loopia Group's emissions in 2022 were 1,930 tonnes CO2e, distributed as:

- Scope 1: 46 tonnes (2%)
- Scope 2: 556 tonnes (25%) (243 tonnes using market-based approach)
- Scope 3: 1,642 tonnes (72%)

Out of 243 tonnes CO2e in scope 2, 214 tonnes come from electricity consumption in facilities, mainly originating from our data centers.

The largest emission categories in scope 3 are “Purchased goods and services” (962 tonnes) and “Capital goods” (226 tonnes).

Given this baseline, reduction of our consumption of electricity generated by fossil energy sources in the data centers is our primary focus to reduce our emissions.

As an example of our actions, we are currently moving our Swedish operations to the world's first climate positive data center, situated in Falun, Sweden. We also plan to move out of Hungary data center, which is one of our largest scope 2 emitters. We have also reduced our fossil energy footprint in CEE by switching to a better mix of energy sources in our data centers.

Environment

Another source of environmental footprint is electronic waste, such as servers from our data centers. Careful resource use should permeate all our decisions such as buying used or environmentally certified products when possible, and to consider prolonged use, re-selling or up-cycling in all scrapping decisions.

Our long-term goals are:

- 100% renewable or non-fossil energy (electricity and cooling) in our data centers
- Reuse, resell, or recycle 100% of all hardware.

Anti- Corruption

Loopia Group has an anti-corruption policy which reflects our strong desire to maintain high standards for the company's integrity and ethics in relation to our way of doing business. Loopia Group does not tolerate any forms of corruption, bribery and extortion and our work is conducted in accordance with current legislation.

The anti-corruption policy and its guidelines apply to all Loopia Group employees. We expect our employees to be aware of irregularities and to speak up if they have concerns about aspects of Loopia Group's business activities.

We emphasize the managers' responsibility in creating a good environment where employees feel safe to express their concerns. In this way, management will have the opportunity to deal with potential problems at an early stage.

Anyone who is concerned that a corrupt act is considered or has taken place, either in Loopia Group or with any of our business partners, should report this to his or her manager, or report it via the whistleblower practice.

In 2022, no incident of misconduct was reported.

Thank you!
